

I'm applying for the Missouri Senate spring internship through CLIP because I want to build on what I started last spring. I served in the Missouri House through CLIP, where I tracked bills, took hearing notes, drafted constituent letters, and helped staff on busy floor days. That experience showed me how fast session moves and how much clear communication and organization matter.

I'm a Business Administration major at Mizzou with an emphasis in Finance, and I plan to attend a top law school and work in corporate law. I bring strong writing, follow-through, and comfort with numbers. As a Complex Litigation Intern at Faber & Brand, I prepared case files and affidavits, gathered client information, and kept documents accurate under tight deadlines. On campus, Phi Alpha Delta and the Cornell Leadership Program have strengthened my leadership and time management.

If selected, I can draft concise memos and constituent responses, track bill changes and committee activity in spreadsheets, keep calendars current, and summarize long hearings into one-page briefs. I stay calm during peak workloads and keep tasks moving.

This internship fits directly into my goals. Working in the Senate will give me the other chamber's perspective, deepen my understanding of committees and final bill language, and improve how I connect policy to real impacts. I'm ready to contribute on day one and represent CLIP and Mizzou with professionalism.
